

BOSS HANNA'S BOODLE

USED TO CONTROL THE CONVENTION OF THE POPULISTS.

Sworn Testimony of Witnesses, the Tall-Tale Checks and Letters and Charles Dick's Pitiful Admission With Childlike Excuses.

Columbus, O., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Later and fuller investigation into the matter connected with the Dick-Hanna manipulation and corruption of certain leaders in the recent Populist state convention only adds to its blackness and atrocity.

The feeble confession and avoidance of Charles Dick, in which he admits the giving of some of the checks and claims that they were "loans" for past "favors" fixes indelibly upon him and his principal, Mark Hanna, the foulest political stigma ever placed on any man who held or aspired to the high position of United States senator from the great state of Ohio.

The refusal of Hanna's agents to permit the facts, the documentary eviexpenses of delegates to the Ohio Populist convention who would vote and work for the nomination of a Populist ticket in Ohio, and that each of them was given a railroad ticket from Cleveland to Columbus and return and each was handed a check for $25 by Mr. Dick, drawn and signed by him to pay expenses.

"Mr. Preyer produced this check and a letter written to him by Mr. Dick. The exposure and disgrace is complete and overwhelming. It not only shows the infamy of Mr. Dick, but what is far more important, it affords conclusive proof of the infamy of Mark A. Hanna.

"There remains now to close the scene of this disgrace nothing but the arrest of both Hanna and Dick, and such criminal dealings with them as facts and the law warrant. Such men as they, and such crimes as theirs, have gone on long enough unmoistened. As these crimes now just exposed were committed in Cleveland, perhaps the arrest and prosecution will have to take place there. Let it follow at once.

"While in this city yesterday after consultation with Chairman Nash, Mr. Dick had gone to the Union depot to take the train for Cleveland. He was

HANNA'S POPULISTS.

A Particularly Clever Dissection of Conditions at the Populist Convention.

The Populist fiasco at Columbus has been dissected by the Cleveland Recorder, as follows:

It was a foregone conclusion, as we said in The Recorder last Wednesday, that a Populist ticket would be nominated at Columbus. Three conditions conspired, as we then explained, to make this inevitable.

There is in the first place a group of sincere and disinterested Populists who cannot distinguish populism without the label. They are always for a third-party campaign, in which, to use an expressive phrase of theirs, they can fight "single-handed and alone." The smaller their party the greater their enthusiasm. This group was naturally and honestly in favor of solitary action. It was as naturally and honestly encouraged by a second group, composed of men who, while perfectly sincere, enjoy the distinctions of candidacy and leadership which they could hope for only from a small political party. Then, in the third place, there is a corrupt group, a group of professional Populists, ready to sell themselves and all they can influence or control to the highest bidder. The latter group was under Mark Hanna's pay at Columbus. For the money it had received from Major Dick, it played upon the vanity of the second group and the fanaticism of the first, and thereby produced the split in the democratic elements of the state which Mr. Hanna so much desires.

That the corruptionists were bought by Mr. Hanna is almost too evident to call for proof. It is to Hanna's interest that a Populist ticket should be in the field. True, it is for the interest of the Democrats, on the other hand, that there should not be such a ticket. But in this direction the interest of the Democrats lies in the direction of consolidating allies by unity of principle and purpose, whereas Hanna's interest lies in the direction of splitting up his opposition by trickery. For that and cogent reasons, Hanna's motive for hiring the Populists to nominate a ticket is infinitely greater than any motive the Democrats could have for hiring them to fuse.

Moreover, the Democrats have no money to spare for corruption, whereas Hanna has an abundance, which he intends to use without stint for that purpose. And while John R. McLean might let money flow freely for corruption uses, yet he would not do so except for selfish ends, and these are too remote. He has not acquired, and will not acquire, a senatorial pledge from the Democrats, as Hanna has from the Republicans. McLean is not spending money now.

When to Hanna's motives, ability, and willingness, we add other well-known facts, the case against him and the corrupt group of Populists is fairly conclusive. The proof that Hanna's political agent, Col. Dick, bought two Populist leaders whom he supposed to belong to the corrupt group, is complete. His own check to one of these men, which cannot be explained upon any other hypothesis, convicts him. And if he bought two, it is folly to suppose that he did not buy more, though no direct evidence be forthcoming. These two put him to the test with the intention of exposing him. In their cases, therefore, he was caught. The other cases are different. It is not to be supposed that either Col. Dick himself or those who sold themselves to him with the intention of "staying bought," would testify against themselves, and there is no one to testify directly against them. But that Dick bought two Populists who exposed him; that other Populists, without visible means of travel or support, have been going over the state working up "middle-of-the-road sentiment"; that the Republican press is devoted to its tender solicitude for the "honest middle-of-the-road Populist," whom at all other seasons it bitterly derides; that a Populist ticket is well known to constitute a part of the Hanna campaign outfit,—these are facts which establish the corrupt manipulation of the Populist convention by Hanna. They present the best evidence of which the nature of the case admits, and it is significant enough to satisfy all but the unsophisticated.

The Populist convention, then, was Hanna's convention, and the Populist ticket is his ticket. Not his to elect, but his to use for the diversion of votes which would be against him if they were not diverted.

Makes Some Suggestions as to How to Reduce Taxation and Pay County Officers' Salaries.

Editor News-Democrat:

I see there is a movement to reduce taxation and salaries of county officers. Now we should take in the whole field. I will mention some waste of money in Marlboro. On the road through the big swamp there was a stone abutment put in that cost $535.85, and an iron bridge of about 20 feet span, cost not known to the writer. Now all the water that passes through is gathered from about 200 acres. Now a two foot sewer pipe, costing 45 cents a foot, would have been more than sufficient. On the same road, a mile or two west, is a two foot sewer pipe that carries the water across the road of more than 500 acres, and the whole thing cost but nine dollars. On the town line, between Marlboro and Lake, there was put in a steel two foot pipe, I am told, costing $120, where a sewer pipe, costing nine dollars, would answer the same purpose and last just as long. I might go on to show just such squandering of the people's money, dozens of places right in this section. But let us look in other directions to lighten the burden of the people. There are many persons who do not return their money for taxation; there is hardly

SILENT SUFFERERS.

Women do not Like to Tell a Doctor the Details of Their Private Ills.

The reason why so many women suffer in silence from the multiple disorders connected with their sexual system is that they cannot bear to broach the subject to a man, even if he is a physician.

No one can blame a modest, sensitive woman for this reticence. It is unnecessary in these times, however, for a woman makes to all afflicted women a most generous offer. Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., bids every woman who suffers to write to her and confide every symptom that annoys her, and she will give her advice without charge, and that advice is based upon the greatest experience ever possessed by man or woman in this country, and extends over a period of twenty-three years, and thousands upon thousands of cases. Why suffer in silence any longer, when you can get help for the asking?

The case of Mrs. Colony, whose letter to Mrs. Pinkham we publish, is an illustration of the good to be received from Mrs. Pinkham's advice; here is a woman who was sick for years and could get no relief—at last in despair she wrote to Mrs. Pinkham—received in return a prompt, sympathetic and interested reply. Note the result and go and do likewise.

"I was troubled with such an aching in my back and hips, and I felt so tired all the time, and had for four years. For the last year it was all I could do to drag around. I would have such a ringing in my head by spells that it seemed as though I would go crazy. I ached from my shoulders to my feet and was very nervous. I was also troubled with a white discharge. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., received a prompt reply and followed her advice, and now I have no backache and begin to feel as one ought; in fact, I never felt better in ten years than I do now. I thank God that I went doctoring with Mrs. Pinkham, when I did, for if I had not I know I would have been in my grave."

OUR POPULIST FRIENDS

In state convention at Columbus last week decided that they would not fuse. This, however, was only done after much confusion and a big row.

There is no doubt that a large majority of the rank and file favor fusion, but it seems certain leaders prefer to be big frogs in a small puddle, fearing they would not fare as well perhaps otherwise.

The special election in the 4th congressional district in Indiana on Tuesday, where anti-fusion prevailed, did not do much for the Populist candidate, though a capable man and a former Republican. It did not defeat Mr. Griffith, the Democratic candidate.

These anti-fusion gentlemen should consider that this year is not two and three years ago, when the Democracy was loaded down with the Cleveland administration. The fact is it was disgust at the Cleveland arrangement that gave the People's party their voting strength, and now that the party has cut loose from Cleveland and Co., our old friends are all pleased and will generally make common cause with us.

This union is the only possible way to win and overthrow the common enemy. If fusion was advisable last year it assuredly is this. Last year the object was to defeat Hanna. McKinleyism and the same enemy is now before us and in full feather.

The McKinley-Hanna organ here has been of late paying flattering attention to Mr. Allen Cook, of our city, who was prominent at Columbus as an anti-fusion leader. His course there is well pleasing to the organ. This same Cook was fusion last year and was on the ticket for common pleas judge. And two years ago he it was who moved and had Charlie Krider endorsed for the state senate by the Populist convention at Alliance.

This year, however, Mr. Cook is anti. A change has come over the gentleman for some reason or reasons. It is said men act from motives, and it may be presented that Mr. Cook is no exception to the rule. No doubt Mr. Hanna will pay special attention to this section and the president himself can give pointers, for he knows somewhat of cooking in that line.

But, however, individuals may waffle and shuffle, the people as a rule are practical and straight-forward. They are not crooked and cannot be cooked. They are independent and will preserve their consistency and vote with a view to establish justice and restore prosperity. Let us then make common cause and do everything for the cause. The country demands it. Sensible people want their votes to count, and this year will not throw them away. United we stand; divided we fall.

The Hanna organs are howling hosannas at the great supply of gold that is coming. They doubtless think this will help along the "prosperity" hurrah. They seem to imagine the world is about to be flooded with gold, and want people to think so. Perhaps this is why Hanna and his Dick were so free with funds for the Populist convention. They evidently wanted to Hannanate the thing.

Mr. Kerch, of our city, was one of the investigating committee on the Hanna-Dick bribery, and one of those who did not like to face the music. The bold Hanna three, after hearing the witnesses and seeing the checks, adjourned to a certain hour, but failed to appear then. He that fights and runs away, May come again some other day.

The fading memory of Secretary Sherman is again the talk, saying it leads to many unpleasant incidents as he says impenetrable things which interfere with our negotiations in Europe. This is Republican talk. "Superfluous lags the veteran on the stage."

Mr. Preston, director of the mint, in a recent interview, shows his ardent goldocracy. Of course Republican papers praise him as a fine man and "an uncompromising Democrat." If so, he is of the Grover Cleveland sort, and sorts now with Hanna and McKinley.

The Philadelphia Ledger estimates Mr. Hanna's campaign expenses in Ohio this fall at two millions only.

The Boston Globe says: "Speech is free under the Dingley tariff." Free speech is something any way, but Dingley & Co. did not give it.

Why is it that trade is good in free trade England and has been the past year and more? And why do Americans suffer so under protection?

Mr. Hanna's craft that went around was got off by tugging. Mr. Hanna's political craft went around last week that check was a bad business for Hanna. Nevertheless he is a Republican saint.

In the Populist convention report says it was a Stark county anti-fusion delegate of good dimensions, who got a fair blow square in the face as he rushed in to take a hand. We have not heard his name.

The Hanna leaders and organs took much interest in the Populist state convention at Columbus as was natural. The exposure in the convention showing a Hanna investment may show the interest taken.

The Populists of Ohio do not like the business methods of the John R. McLean machine.—McKinley-Hanna organ. No, the Hannanized Pops prefer the Hanna machine. It pays better. To be swallowed by Hanna is lovely.

The gold organs attribute the fall in silver to over-production, whereas it is owing to decreased demand caused by adverse legislation. In 1890 silver sold for $1.20 an ounce, and now it can be bought for less than half that sum. Silver coinage since 1890 was suppressed in India and the United States government quit buying silver in October, 1893, by repealing the Sherman law. The recent drop in silver is mainly owing to the discovery of the holders of silver bullion in England that Mr. McKinley is not working for bimetalism at all, and that there is no probability of getting international bimetalism. This administration is unquestionably controlled by the gold influence. Secretary of Treasury Gage is avowedly gold and all know what John Sherman is and has been. The Wolcott commission in Europe is only a blind. The president's message was vague and could be read both ways, thus suiting gold men and bimetallic Republicans who had implicit confidence in McKinley. Actions, however, speak louder than words.

THE HANNA SIDESHOW.

There is little question as to the character of the Populist state convention last week at Columbus. That it was a Republican sideshow, manipulated by Hanna's man, Major Dick, there is no good reason to doubt, for the testimony sustains the charge fully and completely.

Two delegates from Cleveland swore that they received money and railroad tickets from Mr. Dick, Mr. Hanna's agent, to attend to campaign work. Dick is officially installed and represents the Republican state management. He also admits giving the money, but does not admit the understanding, of course.

But all the circumstances convict and his lame explanation of a mere loan confirms his guilt. The agreement was the recipients of the money and tickets should work for an independent Populist ticket.

One of the two gentlemen had his check and a fac simile of it was printed in the News-Democrat of Saturday, and will appear in the weekly, Stark County Democrat, this week. These witnesses also testified that Major Dick promised to furnish reasonable funds to establish and maintain Populist state headquarters during the campaign and to keep speakers and presses busy.

The two witnesses were not in favor of the Dick Republican scheme, but they allowed him to think they were in order to lead him on so that they might expose the inquiry. They were advised to see other Cleveland delegates who had full instructions from him, Dick, and so act in unison. From this it was inferred that these other delegates had received Republican Hanna money and were there to obey orders and carry out the program laid down by the Republican managers. These delegates referred to did work in the convention for an independent Populist ticket and this ticket succeeded.

It is not necessary to state that these other Cleveland delegates did not admit they were bribed and bought. And the majority of Allen Cook's investigating committee, of which Mr. Kerch was one, supported the Dick Republican plan of a Populist ticket and of course reported they could find no corruption among the delegates opposed to fusion.

This is a brief review of the case and every intelligent man can draw his own conclusion. It does not require a fellow to get up a tree in order to see into it and understand it.
